Vast Wave

Democracy Sweeps Over State of Kentucky.

Chairman Hager Expresses Satisfaction At the Spontaneous Response To Call of the Party.

ESTIMATES MAJORITY AT 28,000.

The triumph of Democracy which swept like a wave over Kentucky was in a triple-distilled form when it reached the headquarters of the Democratic Campaign Committee. There were the nerves of the great organization spread throughout the State in the shape of direct telegraph wires, the information was received as fast as the returns were counted, and from an hour after the polls closed until far into the night every man was active and alert, eagerly seeking every bit of news that would throw light on the situation throughout the State. The victory of the Democratic party was well assured by 9:30 o'clock, and an hour later even the bitterest partisans of the opposition had given up hope and conceded the Democratic victory. It was a masterly victory gloriously achieved, and the active workers of the campaign could not rest until the last polling place had sent in the significant message, "Good night."

The committee which had been at work so constantly for the past three months did not pause in its work as the end drew near. Judge S. W. Hager, chairman of the committee; Percy Haly, his able lieutenant; Judge Henry Hines and others were at their posts receiving from the precincts throughout Kentucky news which was in itself a congratulation to the energetic work that had been done. It is said that Kentucky was never more perfectly organized than during this campaign. At one time fourteen days passed during which neither Judge Hager nor Percy Haly left Seelbach's Hotel, where the headquarters were located.

IN REPUBLICAN STRONGHOLDS.

The returns received last night indicated that sentiment in the strong hold of Republicanism had undergone a reversal since the last election in Kentucky was held. Judge Hager was greatly pleased as the evening wore away and gave out the following statement:

"Never from the time I took charge had I the slightest doubt of to-day's election. The people of Kentucky, with especial reference to the respectable tax-paying element, who compose the old-time Democratic party, was never willing at any time to turn over the affairs of the State to the party which they had tried under the former Republican administration."

"After Gov. Beckham assumed control he evinced a conservatism pleasing to those who had financial interests in the State. At a time when the good name of Kentucky was under a cloud he took charge and brought order out of chaos. He so conducted the public institutions that the people soon had absolute confidence in the administration."

MURDERERS AND ASSASSINS.

"They have plainly shown that they were unwilling to turn the affairs of the State over to a party that would unloose assassins and murderers. It was a fear that had general lodgment in the minds of the people that the Belknap administration had no sooner gained control than the murderers of William Goebel would be turned loose in the State. That fear prevented hundreds of Republicans from casting the vote which would otherwise have gone in favor of the party nominee."

"The growth and development of the State had reached such a stage of prosperity that it was necessary for it to be in hands that would foster its best interests. Eastern capital in vast amounts has been invested by Republicans in this State, and the holders of such property were unwilling to risk a change of administration for the reason that it would have disturbed conditions in the State in such a way that the investors would not have felt as secure as they do now."

In the mountain regions, where capitalists have placed large sums of money, they fear that a state of lawlessness would ensue under a Republican administration to such the same fears as has heretofore existed.

GOV. BECKHAM GRATIFIED

It is a great victory for the Kentucky Democracy and it shows more than anything else that our party is once more united and prepared for even greater victories in the future. I am deeply gratified over the result and especially over the splendid majority given our ticket. The size of the majority is very significant and should teach the Republican party in Kentucky a valuable lesson. It ought to show them that no party shall ever have respectful bearing in Kentucky which seeks to win by slandering the fair name of the State and maligning its great and good people. It demonstrates to them that the campaign of slander is a losing one and that the power of the hired blackguard and newspaper libeler is no longer to be tolerated in a political contest in this State. If they want their party to ever again become a factor in the affairs of the State, they must change their policies. Come before the people in decency and good order, without the stain of blood upon their garments and without the aid of the professional slanderer. A party of intelligent and discreet opposition is a good thing in any State and does much good in holding the dominant party to strict and honorable account of its public service. The Democratic desires and invites such opposition and criticism. It is not afraid at any time to go before the people upon a fair and honest investigation of its record. Such a campaign we have just made and the people have indorsed in unmistakable terms our methods and the conduct of the State's affairs by the Democratic administration. Our ticket is deeply grateful to the people of Kentucky for their magnificent indorsement and we shall endeavor to show our gratitude by administering the State's affairs upon broad and liberal policies, doing every thing in our power to render a satisfactory account of our public service, and aiding in building up and developing our great commonwealth.

The victory means that in the great national contest next year Kentucky shall not be in the doubtful list of States, but joining hands with the re-united National Democracy, shall aid in the election of a Democratic President.—Gov. J. C. W. Beckham to Courier-Journal.

REV. F. E. LEWIS.

The removal of Rev. F. E. Lewis by the Louisville Annual Conference from Adairville to Columbia was quite a surprise to his churches here. It goes without saying that the friends of Bro. Lewis heard this with much regret. He had been in our midst for three years and had endeared himself to many people both in and out of his churches. He came here with the charge of circuits which took Adairville and Oakland from the other church and he had a hard word ahead of him. That was to build a church and organize a congregation at Prices Mill. This by his indefatigable efforts he succeeded in doing with only two or three Methodist people to start with, he built a beautiful $600 church and organized the congregation with about twenty members. Bro. Lewis is an educated and polished gentleman, being a credit to any church and the fact that he was elected Principal of the Columbia Training School, is full evidence of his scholarly attainments. We feel full assurance the school could not be in better hands and that he will carry it to a great success. Our loss is Columbia's gain and we trust the new relations will prove as useful, pleasant and successful as the past. Bro. Lewis is succeeded here by Rev. James A. Chandler, who comes with the highest encomiums and has already made his presence known by his affable manners with all his interesting sermons which indicate his power and influence for the church. The Enterprise joins with all in wishing both success in every way to their new field of work.—Adairville Enterprise.

WARFIELD

Carries Maryland By About 8,000 Plurality.

Legislature Will Be Overwhelmingly Democratic.

THE VOTE IN NEW YORK CITY.

Baltimore, Nov. 4.—At midnight the returns of Tuesday's election from Baltimore city and the State of Maryland had not all been received. The missing precincts in the city had been counted by the election judges, but owing to the long rig of the clerical force in the office of the Supervisors of Election, it was decided to close the office. The figures of the missing precincts are promised to-morrow morning. They will not materially change the result. In Baltimore city the entire Democratic State ticket, comprising Edwin Warfield, of Howard county, Governor; Gordon T. Atkinson, of Somerset county, Controller, and William Shepherd Bryan, Jr., of Baltimore city, Attorney General, was elected by about 5,000 plurality. The Democrats elected in Baltimore City three State Senators and eighteen members of the House of Delegates by large majorities. The Republicans elected one State Senator and six members of the House of Delegates. William H. Green, Republican, is apparently elected Sheriff of the city by a plurality of between 100 and 200.

The returns from all of the counties of the State have not been received, but enough reports are in hand to assure an overwhelming Democratic majority on joint ballot in the General Assembly, which will elect a successor to United States Senator Louis E. McComas.

From returns received at this hour it is conceded that the Democrats will have on joint ballot eighty-two votes in the General Assembly to forty-one Republican. Gen. Warfield's plurality in the State will probably reach $500.

Persistent rumors of gigantic land frauds in the Western country have reached Washington and are being investigated by the Interior Department. Government officials, Senators and Representatives are said to be involved in the scheme to defraud the Government. The charges are that several great railroad systems and many members of Congress have engaged in a conspiracy by which they obtained titles to worthless lands, induced the government to make forest reserves out of their holdings and obtained the right under the lieu land act to select in lieu thereof valuable lands, not so reserved. In this manner they are said to have exchanged practically worthless lands for that worth $5 to $6 an acre. This lieu land act never came up for open discussion in Congress as it was introduced by Senator Stewart as an amendment to an appropriation bill and was so enacted. It will take some days to get at the facts from the mass of startling rumors.

BRAIN LEAKS.

All work is honorable if the worker is honest. Some church members keep their hearts in cold storage. Good nature is one of the best physicians now practicing. An itching nose usually accompanies a new diamond ring. Those who marry for money always earn more than they get. Some Christians' prayers sound exactly like a sight draft looks. The congregation that sings well is the congregation that works well. You can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear, but you can make a purse. The difference between some dogs and some men is greatly in favor of the dogs. Wise as he was, Solomon was not wise enough to take advantage of his best opportunities. We wouldn't give much for the good accomplished by the minister whose sermons please everybody. Some men use a firm and clear mind that we have to wonder if their minds ever enjoy themselves.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

A skeptic is a man who doubts his own fish stories.

Oh, Liberty, what a lot of divorces are applied for in thy name.

A man who is continually shooting off his mouth cannot hope successfully to pose as a big gun.

When two women get wound up the third is apt to be run down.

A suburban servant is known by the family she condescends to let live with her.

No Cordella, the seashore breeze is not caused by the hotel victims blowing in their money.

It's a good thing for some people that the necessities of life do not include brains.

A man spends one-third of life in bed, but it's the other two-thirds that usually causes all the trouble.—Chicago News.

If a man does always the best he can, if he yields not at all to the promptings of his lower nature, if he puts away the animal nature and lives according to the highest he knows life will be one continual succession from the beginning to the end. This must be so. There can not be any God ruling in the world if it be not so. If God made it so that the man that does right, that is always moral and always true to his highest convictions, must, notwithstanding, suffer what a chaos the world would be. The world is not made that way.

Do not believe any religious teacher who tells you that you must wait until some future life for the reward of good action and pure living. If you live a truly upright, moral and religious life, and are striving all the time to bring yourself nearer to the Creator of the universe, honestly trying to direct your life in paths of righteousness and fill your heart with purity, God has not so made the world that the result of this effort will be pain and disappointment and disaster.

The term grass widow, is said to be derived from the old English custom of hanging out a broom when a man's wife was absent. To hang out the broom became a common phrase, the meaning being that the house had been swept clean of the wife's presence and the husband's friends were welcome and at liberty to do as they pleased. Later the husbands hung out a bunch of grass, and so became known as "grass widows" and their wives as "grass widows."

Nature is evidence that there is a creative power beyond man or humanity. The Scripture calls that power "God." God means the creative power that creates and rules all things, that possesses the attributes of purity, virtue, goodness, truth and love, giving us evidence of his power through his physical children.

Mr. Clark is entitled to the thanks of the whole people for making public the fact that Mr. Hanna's legislative prosperity-making has been confined to introducing two measures—one to pension ex-slaves and the other providing for a shipping subsidy. Mr. Hanna should be in his seat on the opening day of congress and make prosperity perpetual by introducing a couple of more bills.

The Cleveland boom has received another boost. Senator Hanna said in a meeting at Cleveland: "Grover Cleveland is another great democrat, greater than his time or his party." Now who will be so rash as to question Cleveland's democracy or greatness after this generous indorsement.

Saturday night a Broadhead, Rockcastle county; Josiah Sutton, aged 17, was accidentally shot through the head and instantly killed while in a Halloween frolic. Horace Benton, aged 20, one of Sutton's friends, who thought there were black cartridges in his pistol fired the fatal shot while carelessly handling the weapon.

Perhaps the extra session has been called for the purpose of giving the financiers time to explain what they want. Then the regular session can be devoted to giving it to them.

Tammany

Sweeps Greater New York By 70,000 Plurality.

Victory a Great Triumph for Leader Charles V. Murphy.

TIGER TAKES ALL IN SIGHT.

New York, Nov. 3.—After a remarkable campaign, in which there were united against him nearly all the newspapers and practically every minister of religion in the city, George B. McClellan, son of the Civil War General, was to-day elected third Mayor of Greater New York over Seth Low, Fusionist, the present Mayor, by a plurality of about 70,000.

Edward N. Grout was elected Controller, and Charles V. Fornes president of the Board of Aldermen. These two men were originally on the Fusion ticket and were indorsed by Tammany, whereupon the Fusionist took their names from the Low ballots and nominated other candidates. It was the nomination of Grout and Fornes by Tammany that caused Hugh McLaughlin, the veteran leader of the Kings County Democracy, to bolt and declare that he would not support men who were not Democrats. In spite of his defection, however, McClellan, Grout and Fornes carried Kings county. The management of their campaign there was taken over by State Senator Patrick H. McCarren when McLaughlin refused his aid.

Capt. John C. May was killed last Tuesday afternoon near Menlo, Ga., being knocked from a precipice on Lookout Mountain, by a rotten limb which fell and struck him. He had grasped the limb to assist in his climbing, when it gave way and struck him on the head. He fell about two hundred feet and was caught by a tree. He had left Lexington the Sunday before on a prospecting tour. Capt. May was one of the Curates of Kentucky University and prominent in business circles. He was a widower, twice married. The remains were brought to Shawhan Station, his home, for burial.

The chairman of the Republican Campaign Committee proclaimed the day before the election that Belknap would carry the State by a majority of 15,000. He ought to be ashamed to mislead a confiding public in that way.

The five-year old son of Amanda Shaffer, a wealthy German of Boyle county, was burned to death. It is supposed that while playing in front of an old-fashioned fire place his clothing took fire.

The Kentucky Congressmen and Senators will leave this week for Washington to attend the extra session of Congress, which has been called for November 9th.

Robert Smith, a well-to-do farmer of Nicholas county, committed suicide by shooting himself. This was his second attempt. His mind was deranged by ill health.

Frank Hamilton, a laundryman, of Ashland, recently married, was struck by a train at that place and instantly killed. The horse he was driving was also killed and the wagon demolished.

CHEAP LANDS

For Homeseekers' and Colonies.

The country along the Cotton Belt Route in Southeast Missouri, Arkansas, Northwest Louisiana and Texas offers the greatest opportunities for Homeseekers. Mild climate, good water, cheap building material, abundance of fuel, and soil that will often in a single season yield enough to pay for the ground. Land can be bought as cheap as $2.50 an acre, prairie land at $4 and $5 per acre up, bottom land at $5 and $6 per acre up, improved or partly cleared land at $10 and $15 per acre up. Some fine propositions for colonies—tracts of 2,000 to 8,000 acres at $4 to $10 per acre—big money in this for a good organizer. Fruit and truck lands in the famous peach and tomato belt of East Texas at $10 to $20 per acre up. Write us for information about cheap rates, excursion dates, also literature descriptive of this great country and let us help you find a home that will cost you no more than the rent you pay every year.
